

AIA Georgia hones exceptional designs and careers with its AIA Georgia Design and Honor Awards

Nominees were entered and selected by a geographically diverse jury on design excellence and impact to the profession of architecture

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ATLANTA - April 27, 2019 - The American Institute of Architects, Georgia Association (AIA Georgia) is announcing this year's recipients for its Design and Honor Awards. Complete details for each project are available on AIA Georgia's website.

AIA Georgia bestows awards for design and honor annually on a number of projects selected by its jurors. In order to be eligible for a design award the project must be the work of a registered Georgia architect who lives or does work in Georgia. Submissions for the Student Project Award must be the work of either a current student in Georgia or one that has graduated in 2018. The competition is open to architectural projects of all classifications and sizes. Location of projects is not restricted. Any works submitted for consideration must have been completed and occupied between Jan 1, 2013, and Dec 31, 2018.

Three separate juries were chosen for Design, Student Project, and Honor Awards and selected projects from 147 entrants.
